IÉSEG School of Management (PARIS)

Leadership Excellence for Atma Nirbhar (LEAN) Bharat

Background

A key to creating and sustaining an innovative and successful organization is leadership. As competition increases and globalization offers a mix of opportunities and challenges, the role and importance of leaders attain centre-stage. Organizations take time to respond to the rapid changes taking place in the global economy. A good leader acts as a catalyst to continually evolve a work culture in the organization that is responsive and sensitive to business and administration. A leader not only has to have a bouquet of necessary skills, but also certain intrinsic traits of personality in order to handle organizational challenges. This does not come easily, as it requires a great deal of un-learning and re-learning. Everyone may not be a leader but each one of us has the necessary potential and requires nurturing in all types of organizations both public and private.

Leadership in PSUs has a big role to play in making 'Atmanirbhar Bharat' or 'Self-reliant India'. 'Atmanirbhar Bharat' or 'Self-reliant India' is the vision of the Prime Minister of India Narendra Modi of making India a self-reliant nation. The focal point of the concept is to make the nation self-reliant with more focus on local manufacturers and service providers. Making the country self-reliant in all spheres- from manufacturing to supplying, will help the country to reduce its dependence on imports and may also give a boost to exports. The fall in imports will help reduce the trade deficit and will eventually lead to trade surplus. It will also ensure that the country is able to sustain and tackle any black swan event that may emerge in future.

This Advanced Leadership Programme (ALP) is a transformative 4-week engagement which creates an optimal learning environment. The sessions are designed to be thought-provoking, keeping participants engaged and eager to apply their learnings within their organizations. They would gain new reserves of strategies and personal insights that can be put to use in their enterprises.

Objectives

The main objective of the programme is to enable the participants to enhance their leadership capabilities. It is both developmental and diagnostic, identifying areas with potential for improvement and enhancing skills. The purpose of this programme is also to provide participants with a set of essential skills that will contribute to their effectiveness at work. The other objectives are:

- To prepare enterprise leaders capable of leading their organizations to achieve national aspirations in a globalized environment
- To enrich the participants through sharing of experiences—national and international
- To provide a comprehensive insight into the philosophy and concepts of Leadership
- To develop a concept of Relevant Leadership in Business

- To develop creative and lateral thinking abilities for building globally competitive organizations in the public domain
- To understand the intricacies of organisation development, public policy and change management in the public domain

Learning Outcome and Impact

On completion of the ALP, participants would be better prepared to:

- Lead their organization or at least inspire a higher level of performance in their teams
- Have a clear understanding of contemporary thoughts and concepts of Leadership.
- Appreciate the importance and value of Emotional Intelligence for developing superior leadership.
- Identify their leadership pattern and key qualities of great leaders
- Make their individual and specific action plan
- Align resources with strategy to create a more resilient and agile organization
- Formulate a corporate vision and set a new direction for the organization
- Create greater shareholder value
